Niké Ajibode

■ Sadly Niké died in June. She will be missed by all who knew her and for her contribution to Surrey fencing.

Niké always added smiles to event organisation as well as in her fencing. As an epeeist she graced several local clubs despite the walks from the station. As a committee member she spoke up for keeping fencing inclusive and this legacy will be continued.

2013 team épée

Tim Schofield's report on a small event.

The Surrey Team Épée event was held on 12th May at St Peter's School in Guildford. As organiser, I was not too worried when we only had 2 teams entered a week before the event. Usually a lot of teams leave it to the last day. Unfortunately this year the expected last-minute rush did not arrive, and we had just four teams enter; it seems all the teenagers and university students were studying for exams that weekend. Fortunately, four teams is enough to get in quite a bit of fencing – the competition was organised as a poule, followed by a fight-off for first and third places.

We had a mens and a ladies team from Wimbledon, and teams from Kingston and Charterhouse. It was particularly good to see Charterhouse returning to Surrey competitions. Some of the fights in the poule were closely fought, with Kingston beating Charterhouse by a single hit – 44 hits to 43. At the end of the poule, three teams had two victories each. The ranking between them was therefore decided on indicators, and the final fight-off for first place was therefore between Charterhouse and the Wimbledon Men. In the final, Wimbledon started well with Simon White taking a lead of 5 hits to 4 in the first fight. Unfortunately for them, that was reversed in the second fight with a strong performance from Charterhouse captain Pavel Degtiarev, and despite a strong performance by Wimbledon captain Mark Richardson in his second bout Charterhouse never lost that lead, to win by a convincing margin of 45 hits to 32.

The Wimbledon Ladies sadly had no team victories. However, they had accumulated a total of 73 hits in the poule and for this effort they were able to claim a set of gold medals.

AGM NOTICE

This year the SCFU AGM is planned to be held during a break in the SCFU Foil and Sabre championships, on 27th October 2013 at Wimbledon College (check website for latest details). Please make sure your club is represented. As you may know, sadly the committee has recently lost two members. Please get in touch with a committee member if you feel you could help us (various types of role are available but most importantly we seek club representation).

SURREY YOUTH CHAMPIONSHIPS

The Surrey Youth Championships for 2012/2013 were held at Epsom College. Boys and Girls in age groups from U10 to U18 competed in three weapons. That's about 30 events on one day! For next year we would really like to train more administrators so that each weapon can be organised separately. How about volunteering and doing a practice go first? Contact Ian de Whalley.
